West Valley City Boy Scouts to Plant 15 Trees at Fassio Park

WHAT: Eagle Scout tree planting at Fassio Park

WHEN: Saturday, April 19, 9:00 a.m.

WHERE: Fassio Park (3720 S. 5200 W.)

WHO: The public and media are invited to attend. Volunteers are welcome to participate in the tree planting.

WHY: As part of an Eagle Scout project, more than 25 people will help the West Valley City Parks and Recreation Department plant 15 trees at Fassio Park. Trees that will be planted include three Lindens, one London Planetree, five Maples, two Kentucky Coffeetrees, one Honeylocust, one Ash and one Beech. This marks the second tree planting in the City this year and is part of the Salt Lake County Million Trees project, bringing the total number of new trees to 23.

"This is an exciting project for our City," says Mayor Dennis Nordfelt. "We are beautifying our City and at the same time participating in the County's initiative to create a community forest."
